My Philosophy

In the world of anger, it is key to understand the difference between emotions and feelings. It is also important to understand that anger and other emotions are a part of your makeup as a human being while emotions are symptomatic and that the behavior is the problem and must be changed.

I believe in the genre of relationships that we have never been taught how to build relationships. I believe that every time we open our mouths it is an opportunity to teach and influence. Emotional intelligence is a must segment in relationship management because I believe you are either building your house of relationships or taking your house apart brick by brick to build the house you will be living in buy your self.

by Dr. Carl Robinson

My Book

“The Best Anger Journal”

“The Interactive 30 Day Cognitive Behavior Retraining Experience”

“The Best Anger Journal: The Interactive 30 Day Cognitive Behavior Retraining Experience” is a journal authored by Dr. Carl Robinson to assist in changing behavior, while helping you understand the difference between problematic and symptomatic issues of pervasive anger. The treatment modalities used in this journal experience will aid you in changing the ways you act and react through what is called cognitive behavioral retraining.

As you experience this journal, remember, you must put down that old rusty tool belt and be ready to obtain new tool sets that will help replace some of the dangerous tools you have been using in your old belt. People who say they have changed overnight are not being honest, but small changes with commitment over a period of time can be lasting and meaningful especially while in rebuilding.

Carl Robinson, Ph. D. is a trained Pastoral Counselor in both psychology and theology, and provides psychological as well as spiritual guidance to his clients and their families. ## DIPLOMATIC WORK

Dr. Robinson is a humanitarian entrepreneur presently working in war-torn Congo (DRC) where in 2004, he was appointed honorary consular diplomat promoting international trade, supporting humanitarian relief, providing medical, educational and economic development projects.

Officially Recognized and Selected

Dr. Robinson was officially chosen to represent the Democratic Republic of Congo in July 2004 via DRC Government. His appointment is to represent the foreign nationals in the Dallas Texas Metroplex Area. He was selected for his for his 36 years of business background and ministry intelligence. With all of his experience and natural diplomatic skills he was not only an intelligent choice but the most likely one to help bring the DRC and the US together on many levels. As an American he brings the best of both worlds to the table.

As a commissioner of Trade in Congo he hopes to establish friendly relations to produce honest business exports and imports as well as local production of the Congo's vast resources through the increase of exportation.

General

Honorary Consuls should work within the letter and spirit of Vienna Convention on Consular Relations 1963 and fulfill their duties and obligations as laid down in the Convention honestly, responsibly, fairly, justly and equitably.

Honorary Consuls may fly the national flag of sending State on their means of transport only when these are used on official business and with due regard to the laws, regulations and usages of the receiving State. The national flag of the sending State and its coat-of-arms may be displayed on the building occupied by the consular post and at the entrance door thereof and on the residence of the Honorary Consul.
